

Serve-Receive Formation Planner

Compare coverage shapes, define responsibilities and choose one shared call

TEAM	OPPONENT / SESSION	DATE	OFFENSE / SYSTEM	COACH / STAFF	PLANNING GOAL

Concept diagrams compare the number of primary passers. They are not legal rotation templates or universal recommendations.

Start with the players, opponent and rule set in front of you.

FIVE PASSERS

Broad starting coverage

POTENTIAL FIT

Useful while newer players learn space and communication.

WATCH FOR

More seams require explicit ownership calls.

Conceptual coverage only - verify legal order for each rotation.

FOUR PASSERS

Shared lanes with one release

POTENTIAL FIT

A flexible bridge between broad coverage and specialization.

WATCH FOR

Name the short-ball and deep-seam responsibilities.

Conceptual coverage only - verify legal order for each rotation.

THREE PASSERS

Clear primary lanes

POTENTIAL FIT

Frees selected attackers and the setter from first contact.

WATCH FOR

Each passer owns more court and must move early.

Conceptual coverage only - verify legal order for each rotation.

TWO PASSERS

Highly specialized coverage

POTENTIAL FIT

Can simplify decisions for two trusted passers.

WATCH FOR

Large lanes and serve variation increase the demand.

Conceptual coverage only - verify legal order for each rotation.

FORMATION DECISION

Choose the smallest amount of detail your staff can teach, observe and review consistently.

☐ 5 passers ☐ 4 passers ☐ 3 passers ☐ 2 passers ☐ Changes by rotation

Fill the legal order first. Add the serve-receive call only after checking the rulebook and event interpretation that apply.

Exact shapes change with personnel, offense, opponent and serve pressure.
